

JVS TORONTO
Helping People Succeed

At JVS Toronto, we are pleased to partner with leading organizations that value excellence, achievement and service. Newcomer Employment Services is funded by the Government of Canada and offered as a free service to your business.

Your business' success depends upon finding the best and most qualified employees and JVS Toronto can help.

With 60 years of experience in employment and career services, JVS Toronto has successfully linked thousands of qualified candidates to the right job.

We are a non-profit, non-sectarian community organization that partners with the government and business sectors to help people succeed at school and at work. Through our training initiatives and job search assistance programs, we have developed strong working relationships with employers.

We welcome the opportunity to move your organization ahead with highly motivated and experienced candidates. All of our applicants have been pre-screened and trained to excel in their profession. JVS Toronto can give your company the leading edge by finding full-time and part-time talent that fits your work environment and business needs.

What We offer

1. Pre-screening and Placing Qualified Candidates

Our professional Employment Consultants pre-screen participants to ensure that potential candidates' skills and strengths are best matched to the requirements of your HR needs.

Our cost-free employment services allow your business to save money on recruitment and advertising costs, while also saving valuable time, so that you can focus on other key activities and needs of your business.

2. Skilled Professional Placement Opportunities (SPPO)

For eligible clients, SPPO helps internationally trained professionals gain Canadian work experience. Placements can last up to 8 weeks. SPPO is FREE to your company.

3. Partial Wage Subsidies

Save Time and Reduce Recruitment Costs. Employers can receive a partial wage subsidy for eligible clients to help off-set hiring and training costs normally incurred while hiring new employees.
